
Invite author April Henry to your school!

Invite author April Henry to your school and your students will learn where she gets her ideas, the three things she does once she gets one, and the research she undertakes—including taking a class that ended with her being kidnapped!

April has visited hundreds of schools and libraries all over the United States to talk about her books, the writing process, the cool things she does for research, and more. She knows how to keep students interested and entertained.

Presentations

April usually does two to three presentations a day. She prefers to speak to large groups, like an entire grade level at a time. She can also lead a writing workshop for up to 50 students. Put her to work during lunch too! April loves having an informal lunch with a smaller group of teens. She's also available for in-school book signings and interviews with school newspapers and local media.

"April's visit was one of the best author visits I've had at my school. My students love her books so there was huge anticipation leading up to her visit, but the excitement has continued to build in the months since she was here. I have 99 copies of her books in my library. ALL have been checked out since her visit and there are still holds on them. I would highly recommend April for a great author visit for any middle or high school." - Jennifer Ashby, Librarian, Shirley C Heim Middle School, Stafford, Virginia

More info

About the author

An Oregon native, April is a full-time writer living in Portland. In addition to her numerous young adult novels, she has written 12 mysteries and thrillers for adults, and even an episode of the popular running app Zombies, Run.

April is an orange belt in kajukenbo, a purple belt in kung fu, and a four-stripe white belt in Brazilian jiu-jitsu.

She is known for her dedication to research, including taking part in:

- FBI Citizen's Academy
- Writer's Police Academy
- Urban Escape and Evasion
- Wilderness Medicine Certification
- Close Combat Training

Invite author April Henry to your school

A New York Times bestselling author who appeals to both strong and reluctant readers—and who does amazing research!

To learn more about April's presentations, go to www.AprilHenry.com, or email carmenoliver@thebookingbiz.com

The Lonely Dead

Adele can see the dead, and even talk to them. When the ex-best friend Tori murdered, the two girls must join forces to figure out who did it—because the police think it was Adele. 12-up

The Girl I Used to Be

Olivia grew up knowing that her dad killed her mom and left Olivia at a K-Mart. But then the discovery of a human bone in the woods changes everything. Can Olivia find the real killer before the killer finds her? Edgar finalist. Lone Star Award. 12-up

Girl, Stolen

Sick, blind and kidnapped—can Cheyenne survive? And what about Griffin, her accidental kidnapper? Multiple state award winner. 12-up

Count All Her Bones

The much-awaited companion novel to Girl, Stolen. On the eve of the trial of her kidnapers, Cheyenne makes plans to meet up with the boy who started it all. But there are those who would stop at nothing to stop her from testifying. 12-up

Blood Will Tell

Portland County Sheriff's Office Search & Rescue members Alexis, Nick and Ruby must help one of their own when they are the prime suspect in a murder. Junior Library Guild selection. Starred review from VOYA. 12-up

The Night She Disappeared

When Kayla goes out to deliver a pizza and never comes back, co-workers Gabie and Drew team up to find her. YALSA Top 10 Quick Pick. Junior Library Guild selection. 12-up

The Body in the Woods

Alexis, Nick and Ruby join Portland County Sheriff's Office & Rescue, where they look for lost people as well as crime scene evidence—and try to untangle a murder. Junior Library Guild selection. ILA Young Adult Choice. 12-up

The Girl Who Was Supposed to Die

She doesn't know who she is, or where, or why. All she knows when she comes to in a ransacked cabin is that two men are arguing over whether or not to kill her. Multiple state award winner. ILA Young Adult Choice. 12-up